Three Tickets Seem to More Than Fill Political Requirements.

POPULISTS MASQUERADING AS CITIZENS

Funny Features of the List of Names Put Up by the Convention that Met Tuesday Evening—Pops

Up by the Convention that Met Tuesday Evening—Pops

As a matter of fact, at least five out of the ten candidates who were nominated are avowed populists, while one is a prohibitionist and has never voted the ticket of either of the old parties. Nearly every important office was given to a populist, in spite of the fact that those who engineered the plan were anxious to have it understood that this was a populist move. Only one representative of the 5-cent fare movement took any part in the convention. The populists, then, will have to carry the burden of the platform of the two parties, as both parties in their declarations, so that no member of either party can forsake the candidate of his party's choice on the platform.

It is true the democrats are somewhat hampered by the fact that they have a platform of their own, but they are not in a position to make any change in the platform which they made prior to the last election and which they are renewing now.

It is claimed by the party leaders that this is only a slight disadvantage, from the fact that the democratic party realizes, as a rule, that platforms are simply to assist in getting on board the train, but are not intended to stand on after the train has started.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED.

Appropriate Exercises Held in All the Public Schools of the City.

As there is to be no school today, exercises were held in the schools of Washington, high school and in every school in the city yesterday afternoon. The buildings and rooms were gaily decorated with flags and banners and at the hour of opening were full of overflowing with the pupils and their friends. Each teacher had prepared a program, with the aid of the pupils, of such a nature as to instill in the minds of the latter the sentiment of patriotism, and the boys and girls entered into the spirit of the occasion with an interest that showed the lesson had been well learned.

The exercises at the high school were particularly interesting and were witnessed by one of the largest crowds, so Prof. Eastman says, that has been in the room since he has been principal. The following orations were delivered: "Why We Celebrate Washington's Birthday," Tom Green; "The Days We Celebrate," Bernie Sawyer; "The Old Independence Ball," Miss May W. Brant; "Deserve Success and You Will Win It," Miss Elsie Miles; "Benefits of Newspapers," Miss Paula Krellinger; "Conversations," Miss Nellie Beck; "The Spirit of the Old," Miss Lillie Chernish; "Manliness in Politics," Oran Blanchard; "Keys," Miss May Colburn.

In addition to these orations there were a number of declamations by Misses Edith Tonia, Anna Coyne, Ethyl Thomas and Belle White. Miss Nellie Beck read "The Old Independence Ball," Miss May W. Brant, "Deserve Success and You Will Win It," Miss Elsie Miles; "Benefits of Newspapers," Miss Paula Krellinger; "Conversations," Miss Nellie Beck; "The Spirit of the Old," Miss Lillie Chernish; "Manliness in Politics," Oran Blanchard; "Keys," Miss May Colburn.

LIVING POLITICAL WIVES.

Senator Pettigrew's Successor (Believed to Be a Politician).

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Bee.)—The "big republican four" is about to make an important move. A. B. Kittredge, one of the leaders of republicanism in this state, is said to have accepted the position of assistant attorney for the Homestead Mining company, with headquarters at Deadwood. It is believed that Mr. Kittredge's removal to Deadwood is to capture the $5,000 salary which goes with the position of assistant attorney for that big mine. It is quite generally understood, however, that he goes there for political reasons. The election of the next legislator, which will be held in this state, is expected to be a close one. It is believed that the "big republican four" will be a strong force in the state.

WORK IN THE HOUSE.

The house, after lengthy discussion, passed a bill providing a fine not to exceed $10 for all hunters who trespass on cultivated land.

The Sawyer bill, providing a bounty on snakes, was made a special order for March 1.

Bills were introduced: By Groneweg, limiting the number of stock driving over county bridges at $100 per day; By Harper, providing for a state board of charities; By the speaker, appointing by the governor, who shall have general supervision and inspection of all penal and charitable institutions.

WILL PROLONG THE FIGHT

Indications that Iowa Prohibitionists Will Not Surrender Easily.

THEY WILL RESIST TO THE LAST DAY

Extra Session May Be Necessary Before the Present Law Can Be Modified—Woman Suffrage Amendment Attracting Much Attention.

DES MOINES, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Bee.)—The firm stand taken by seventeen republican senators and at least forty-eight republican members of the lower house against any form of legislation that would give the saloon a legal standing in the state has forced the republican legislators who honestly desire to redeem the pledges of the platform upon which they were elected, both in letter and spirit, to seek a fast way with the democrats on this issue. To that end the committee, consisting of Senators Carpenter, Ellis and Harmon, appointed to draft the bill has incorporated in it several of the leading features of the high license bill introduced by the democrats.

Under the Hatch or Brewer bill no saloon could be located within a county giving a majority against license, or within any ward or township in a license county which gave an adverse majority. The effect of these regulations would be to give the cold water to the saloon in every county territory in the state, including fully seventy whole counties, which would not give a license saloon. Besides the prohibition of saloons in all non-license counties, every township in the "wet" counties that gave an anti-license majority would have to prohibit saloons in every township.

The prohibitionists have rejected this measure no other course was left open to the liberal republicans but to so modify the bill as to give the saloon a legal standing from the democrats to insure its passage. The above provision has accordingly been struck out, and every incorporated city of the state is to be divided into wards or townships, and all the outside territory in the county will comprise one or more places in the county. This provision will probably be seen that this bill will not only give the saloon a legal standing, but will also give it a legal standing in every township in the county. It will not only follow that the business interests in every township in the county will be drawn away from small towns. It will naturally follow that the business interests in every township in the county will be drawn away from small towns. It will naturally follow that the business interests in every township in the county will be drawn away from small towns.
